Parent Trust for Washington Children's Pregnancy, Childbirth & the Newborn Book Is Honored With Three 2009 Awards

SEATTLE, WA – August 10, 2009 –

Parent Trust for Washington Children's childbirth education book, Pregnancy, Childbirth, and the Newborn: The Complete Guide, recently won three new awards, one each from National Parenting Publications, iParenting Media, and Living Now Book Awards.

Parent Trust for Washington Children is well known for its life-changing parent education and family support programs serving thousands of children and families in the State of Washington. Expectant and new parents are also familiar with Parent Trust's Great Starts classes, which are attended by thousands of parents each year in the Puget Sound area. As part of its efforts to get parents off to a great start, Parent Trust's childbirth educators, Penny Simkin, Janet Whalley, Ann Keppler, Janelle Durham & April Bolding authored Pregnancy, Childbirth, and the Newborn: The Complete Guide (PCN). With over a million copies sold, it is a well-respected and definitive text on giving birth.

This year, the National Parenting Publications awarded the PCN a Gold Award in their parenting resources category. National Parenting Publications wrote, "Our testers loved this book's positive, realistic and thorough approach to preparing new parents for their birth experience. It encourages questions, offers alternatives and empowers parents-to-be to make decisions based on accurate, balanced research and personal choice."

Parent Trust is also an honored recipient of an iParenting Media Award and a Living Now Book Award. iParenting Media awarded the PCN a 2009 Best Products award in their book category. Living Now Awards honored the PCN with a 2009 Bronze Award in their family category.

The PCN is one of the most comprehensive childbirth books available, containing clear, concise information on pregnancy, birth, the postpartum period, and how to care for a newborn. Up-to-date information and informative pictures leave readers feeling more knowledgeable and less apprehensive about having a baby.

"This book is authoritative without feeling overwhelming. It keeps the woman and her family in focus and provides a range of options. If expectant parents could have one book, this would be the one." – Trish Booth, M.A., L.C.C.E., F.A.C.C.E. childbirth education consultants, Manlius, NY

"The single best book for understanding pregnancy and birth." - Carol Jones, C.N.M., Director of Midwifery, Virginia Mason Clinic, Seattle, WA
