Parent Trust to benefit from KEXP's Audioasis event on March 1st

SEATTLE, WA – February 25, 2008 -- Parent Trust for Washington Children is excited to announce a benefit show Saturday, March 1st at the High Dive in Seattle's Fremont neighborhood in conjunction with KEXP's Audioasis. Live at the High Dive every month, Audioasis supports Northwest non-profits by hosting a benefit show featuring local bands and artists.

The Feral Children and Holy Ghost Revival will open the event at 6:00pm. Beginning at 9:30pm the second set will include The Femurs, Sirens and Sailors, and an encore performance by The Feral Children. Doors open at 5pm. The High Dive is a 21 and over venue. Tickets are $7 and are available through www.brownpapertickets.com or at the door. All net proceeds benefit Parent Trust for Washington Children.

Since 1978, Parent Trust for Washington Children has provided Washington State families with the building blocks to create strong, nurturing bonds between parents and children, and prevent child abuse and neglect. We serve families - from pregnancy through the teen years - through individual and group support and education. Parent Trust for Washington Children operates the Family Help Line, the only statewide toll-free phone line for families in distress. Parent coaches are available Monday – Friday from 9:00am – 10:00pm and weekends from 10:00am – 6:00pm. The Family Help Line can be reached at 1-800-932-HOPE (4673). Services are available in English and Spanish.
